Rationale SPED 800

Doctoral Research, Dissertation, and/or Examination (SPED 800) credits are needed for doctoral students specializing in Special Education when taking their comprehensive assessment examinations and working on their dissertations. The PhD in Education with a specialization in Special Education is new, and therefore we currently do not have in the catalog SPED 800. These doctoral students' programs will include at least 20 credits of SPED 800. SPED 800 is the equivalent to T & L 800 (included in the approved graduate programs) but will serve the doctoral students in Special Education.
