

Preparing for Graduate School

Why graduate school is a good choice for you

- You can build a better world. At WSU, graduate students collaborate with expert faculty on life-changing research projects. Learn more at research.wsu.edu.
- Your chances for financial success are better with a graduate degree. According to the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics in a study called Education Pays 2021, workers with graduate degrees had the highest earnings and the lowest unemployment rates.
- Washington state is continuously in need of employees with graduate degrees. Your chances of securing a satisfying and good-paying job increase with an advanced degree.
- Many WSU graduate students receive teaching, research, or graduate assistantships or fellowships. Learn about your options at gradschool.wsu.edu/scholarships-fellowships-awards.

Requirements

To learn about the application process for graduate school, visit gradschool.wsu.edu/apply. Deadlines vary. Visit gradschool.wsu.edu/degrees to see what your program of choice might require. If you have any questions, please contact our friendly Admissions Staff at 509-335-6424.

The Graduate School
Washington State University
French Admin Building Room 324
Pullman Washington 99164-1030
509-335-6424
gradschool@wsu.edu